PCN Strategies Along With Team Oracle Awarded State Longitudinal Education Data Warehouse Project

PCN Strategies is pleased to announce along with their partners on Team Oracle the award of the "SLED" contract with the District of Columbia Government agencies DC Public Schools, Office of the State Superintendent and Office of the Chief Technology Officer. The project will allow the students of the District to have Unique Identifiers, Software, Training and Support for tracking performance and much more. The awardees were praised by the DC Council Chairman Vincent Gray as "the model process".

"This project is key to the District's tracking of each student from Kindergarten through and past senior year of High School" explained Exec. Vice President Marc. E. Zigo. "We worked very hard with our partners here in the District to provide a 360 degree picture of our abilities and commitment"
